

COMING SOON TO OUTDOOR CHANNEL – LEGENDS OF ROD AND REEL, SEASON #2!

(Minneapolis, MN) Ron Schara Productions, award-winning Twin Cities production company, has announced it will produce a second season of the popular “Legends of Rod & Reel” show on The Outdoor Channel.

The television series debuted in January of 2008, and enjoyed a highly successful season. It features stories and profiles of America’s best of the best in the world of sport fishing.

“They really are the “Legends of Rod & Reel”, says Ron Schara, Executive Producer, “Some are famous; some are not. Some catch crappies; some chase bass. Some battle tarpon; some cast for carp. No matter, they all share one thing in common. Every Legend is exceptional with a hook and line. They possess fishing skills the rest of us can only wish we had. They have a thirst to catch. They fish with passion.”

Some season #1 Legends included “Trapper Rudd” in the streams of Silverthorne, Colorado; “The Crappie King” in the bogs of Mississippi; striper fishing with Dan Jennings on the waters of Kentucky; as well as Minnesota names, Al Lindner and “Muski Tom” on Lake Vermillion.

Season #2 highlights include some local personalities such as Larry Dahlberg and Ron Weber. Other Legends on the list include Frank Moore on the Umqua River in Oregon, tourney champ Mike McClelland in Arkansas, and Trevor Gowdy in Boston, MA.
